WELCOME TO OUR MAISON DE LUXE

PRINCE DE GALLES

A PARISIAN ICON

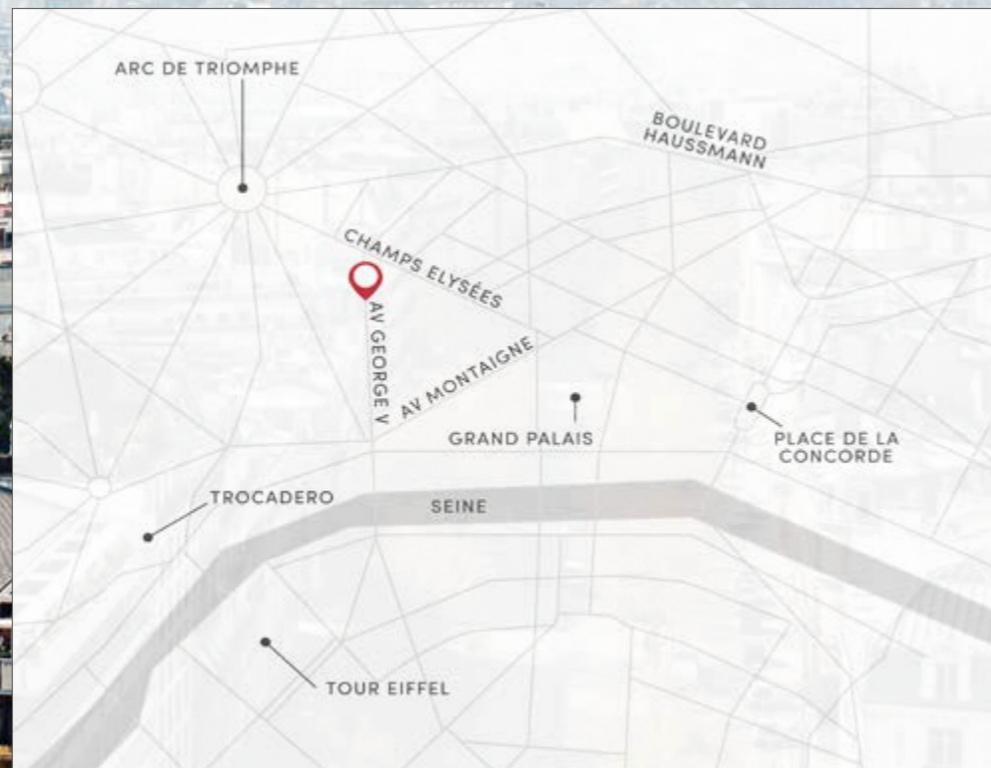

Since its inauguration in 1929, Prince de Galles has excelled as a symbol of sophistication and grace in Paris. It belongs to those legends that make Parisian grand hotels.

The Art Deco and the glorious past give the premises an outstanding reputation and, at the same time, a history.

Located on the prestigious Avenue George V, the hotel benefits from a Premier location in the Parisian Golden Triangle near by the Champs-Elysées, steps away from cultural and historical Parisian landmarks, of some of the most prestigious boutiques of the city and close to the main business districts.

Prince de Galles is about more than history and location - it is about real personal touches. With its service motto 'Ich Dien' (I serve), Prince de Galles represents the finest of the great hotels tradition. Thanks to the loyalty and dedication of its associates, it is recognized for its personalized, irresistibly sophisticated level of service. It is the Parisian residence for the most discerning travelers, who want an elegant environment in the city's most desirable quarter but also desire discretion and intimacy. A destination authority with a special and personal touch.

Guests also enjoy the expert information provided by the dedicated Clef d'Or concierges who are Luxury Collection destination specialists, to discover the icons of Parisian Art Deco, beautiful Houses of French artisanal know-how, and the many hidden treasures that Paris has to offer.

Inside, veined marble, dark leather, leopard-print armchairs, and lacquered furniture occupy an atmosphere tinted with exoticism, where refinement combines with gold leaf.
